

3rd Biennial North Carolina Summit on United States-China Education

中美教育北卡峰会

Thursday, September 6, 2012

9:00 AM—4:00 PM

The Friday Institute for Educational Innovation

NC State University, Raleigh, NC

Free Registration

We invite educators, policy makers, and business leaders to attend this summit to witness how North Carolina has made progress in Chinese language and cultural programs, and to work toward increased partnerships and collaborations between North Carolina and China in the coming years.

Summit Agenda

- Insight on real world applications of U.S.-China educational partnerships:
 - How will tomorrow's American and Chinese workers work together?
 - How will the two most prominent nations of the world maintain peace and prosperity?
 - How will future leaders in the U.S. and China communicate and collaborate with each other?
- What is being done to improve and expand educational partnerships between the U.S. and China
 - Academic benchmarking in the U.S. and China
 - Curriculum for globally competent students
 - Developing teacher knowledge about the world
- Think Tank session for development of an Action Plan to foster informed policy and sustainability of U.S.-China collaborations involving education and partnerships

Featured Speakers

Tom Ross, President, University of North Carolina General Administration

Dr. William Harrison, Chairman, State Board of Education

Mr. Wang Guangfa, Chairman of Fazheng Industries Group and Principal of Beijing Royal School

Keith Crisco, Secretary of Commerce, NC Department of Commerce

Mr. Lin Yue, Director, Jiangsu Educational Services for International Exchange

Registration

Registration is free and lunch is provided. Please register at <http://uschinasummit.weebly.com>

